Thank you for supporting LymeLight Foundation and our mission to provide treatment grants to children and young adults with Lyme disease.
Thank you for supporting a life-changing organization! Tonight’s proceeds directly fund treatment grants for children and young adults suffering with Lyme disease.

Often the lack of diagnosis and costly treatment (typically not covered by insurance), leave families on their own to battle this debilitating disease. By being here tonight, you are raising hope for those struggling.

Over the past nine years, LymeLight Foundation has awarded $5.3M in treatment grants to 824 individuals in 49 states. This would not have been possible without you!

This lively and unique event is generously brought to you by all of our Corporate Sponsors, Host Committee, Patrons, Galleries and amazing Artists.

Thank you for being part of this entertaining evening and best of luck with your “dart”!

Mission Statement

Two Strategic Financial Partnerships

The Steven and Alexandra Cohen Foundation directly funds treatment grants with a $2M grant (over 5 years).

The Laurel Foundation covers all operating expenses through 2020. This means 100% of ALL donations received will directly fund treatment grants.

Our mission is to provide grants to enable eligible children and young adults with Lyme disease to receive proper treatment and medication as well as raising awareness about Lyme disease.

LymeLight Foundation was started by two families who had children diagnosed with Lyme disease. Through their children’s struggles, they discovered the incredible expense of battling Lyme and the inability of many families to afford proper treatment. Unfortunately, most treatment plans for Chronic Lyme are not covered by insurance. Existing Lyme foundations mainly focus on funding research and awareness. LymeLight is the only foundation in the nation with the core mission of funding significant treatment grants for Lyme.

LymeLight awards grants to eligible children and young adults through 25 years of age. It is the goal of the foundation to help youth who might otherwise lead lives of illness, unfulfilled potential and dependency to forge a path towards health and self-reliance.

The LymeLight Foundation is recognized by both the IRS and State of California Franchise Tax Board as a tax-exempt 501 (c) 3 organization. Contributions to the LymeLight Foundation are tax-deductible as allowed by law.
Auxiliary Events

We continue to be honored and impressed by the many people who have raised funds on our behalf. Thus far, we have had auxiliary fundraisers benefitting LymeLight Foundation in 22 states.

Birthday Fundraisers

By sharing her birthday fundraiser on social media, Ava was amazed by the support she received, raising nearly $6,000 for LymeLight Foundation. She battled the miserable symptoms of Lyme for two years and is thankfully now in better health. She knows this is not the case for many others and wanted to give back to help others struggling.

Athletic Fundraisers

Jeremy Julio, co-owner of Last Bite Mosquito & Tick Control, completed a 4x4x48 adventure in support of LymeLight Foundation. He ran 4 miles, every 4 hours, for 48 hours straight, raising over $8,000 for children suffering with Lyme.

Local Fundraisers

Through donations and t-shirt and lemonade sales at her “Lift for Lyme” Crossfit event, along with her “Backyard Bash” raffle in partnership with Re/Max Realty, LymeLight Grant Recipient, Madeline, raised over $3,000 for children suffering with Lyme disease.
75% of recipients report substantial health improvements after receiving their treatment grant. THANK YOU for providing hope, health and healing!

At two, Micaiah struggled with a severe vision disability and a myriad of other health concerns including asthma, digestive issues, mood swings and a weakened immune system. The family drove seven hours, from North Carolina to Ohio, to visit a Lyme-literate physician to test Micaiah for Lyme. After coming back positive, Micaiah’s family worried about how to pay for treatment. As a one-income household, they were already struggling to make ends meet.

A LymeLight grant made her antibiotic and supplement treatment possible, as well as bi-monthly visits to a vision therapist. Five years later, Micaiah is an active and healthy seven year-old. She no longer requires an inhaler, as her asthma symptoms have disappeared, and her visits to the Lyme specialist are fewer and farther between. Thanks to her grant, Micaiah is now thriving!

“We are forever grateful to LymeLight Foundation for taking a huge financial burden off our family as we sought healing for our daughter. Micaiah would not be where she is today without your help!”

— Caitie, Micaiah’s mother
What is Lyme Disease?

Lyme disease is a bacterial infection primarily transmitted by a tick bite. Ticks are small insects, often the size of a poppy seed.

Did you know?

- Lyme disease is 1.5x more common than breast cancer and 6x more common than HIV and is the fastest growing infectious disease.
- Untreated Lyme disease during pregnancy can lead to infection of the placenta. Spread from mother to fetus is possible.
- The CDC acknowledges at least 425,000 new infections per year.
- The tell-tale “bull’s-eye rash” after a bite occurs in less than half of all Lyme infections.
- Current testing often provides a false negative result.
- Most insurance companies do not cover treatment for Lyme disease.

Symptoms of Lyme Disease

- Severe fatigue and exhaustion
- Joint pain, swelling and stiffness
- Neurological impairment, unable to concentrate, memory loss, vision changes
- Difficulty with speech or writing, ear pain, buzzing or ringing
- Seizures, light-headedness, poor balance, difficulty walking and Bell’s palsy
- Cardiac issues, irregular heartbeat, murmurs, heart block
Found a Tick? If You’ve Been Bitten

• Remove tick using tick key or sharp tweezers. Pull straight up and away from skin. DO NOT TWIST OR BURN WITH A MATCH. Clean skin thoroughly.

• Save tick in a plastic bag, place in freezer (if available) & contact IGeneX or Tick Report for testing.

• If tick tests positive, or you suspect Lyme disease, contact a Lyme-literate doctor (LLMD/LLND) for early intervention.

• Watch for symptoms of Lyme disease: Flu-like ailments, lack of energy, headache, joint pain, chills, extreme fatigue.

• Monitor for development of circular bullseye rash, small bump or redness at the site of the tick bite.

• With an early Lyme infection, antibodies may not have had time to develop in your body. Therefore, an initial blood test may appear negative. STAY VIGILANT. Many people are asymptomatic, but can develop symptoms months, years or even decades later. Monitor yourself closely, learn about Lyme disease and trust your body and your gut instinct.

After growing up in Cape Cod, I studied at Art Institute of Boston. My work has been shown at Davidson Gallery and Pacini Lubel Gallery in Seattle, Seattle Museum of Art’s Rental Gallery and SF MOMA Artist’s Gallery, as well as on the covers of Daniel Smith Catalog and Food Lovers Guide to Seattle. My subjects include urban landscapes, still lifes and the figure. Although a realist painter, I believe there is always an abstract element to my composition.

I create art to connect with my true essence. It cuts through the societal programming, expressing itself through me in a joyful way. It allows me to let go of control and surrender to the painting. As a recovering perfectionist I choose to work in mixed media using collage and acrylic because it’s forgiving. I love bold colors, geometric shapes and text which come alive with whimsy on wood panels and paper. I am happiest when I am drawing outside the life.

I paint directly from life, be it outdoors, on city streets, or in studio. I’m inspired by the play of light and shadow on shapes and colors, and drawn to the juxtaposition of architectural forms against the organic shapes of the landscape. I’ve trained at The Art Students League in New York and City College in San Francisco. I’ve studied plein air with some of the best regional painters in the field and give both plein air and still life workshops.

My goal is to represent subjects honestly and naturally. I aim for accuracy in drawing and capturing essential mood and color. My landscapes are based on real places and done in plein air. Still life is a mini landscape where I control light and objects. Still objects take on an air of mystery and poetry whether rendered in black and white or color. Portraiture is about interpretation. Demeanor, expression and carriage reveal unique individual characters.

Carolyn Crampton grew up near New York City, but spent a childhood summer in Europe, visiting museums. The feeling of being at home with the paintings forged her desire to be an artist. Crampton received her BFA from the University of Colorado. For years, she painted realist landscapes on site, trying to capture the glory of the light outdoors, and is now re-envisioning those works. Crampton’s paintings are included in many Bay Area collections.

The figures I paint are captured in moments of contemplation or remembering their magic. I paint women crazy in love with their imperfect lives…and those searching for a connection to something deeper. My work is about the journey of embracing the hidden and sacred and most powerful parts of ourselves. For some, it looks like invincible self-confidence. For others, it’s the raw honesty of our vulnerability and yearning.

My daily practice is often about trusting the process, trust that I am guided on my path of creativity, that I have a something to say, and that that thing deserves to be said through paint. All of this art-making business offers an arena where I seek balance and connection to my life. The art does have a way of connecting me to something bigger than my temporal self. My paintings are an exploration of pattern and color. I build up layers of paint and medium, starting with a piece of fabric and incorporating repeating patterns that are both timeless and reminiscent of a particular time and place. These works honor the domestic and everyday, while examining the complicated feelings one can have about home. They celebrate surface and depth, inspired by the decorative elements we are surrounded by in our daily lives at home.

Karin Taber is a contemporary California artist and long-time member of the Stanford art community. Dividing her time between the Bay Area and San Diego, her work is influenced by her coastal environments; she paints abstract seas and landscapes in a fluid, layered style, emulating the dynamic movement and ethereal palette of the sea. Taber’s works are collected and exhibited by national and international galleries and institutions, including Stanford University.

Above and Below I & II / Acrylic and Mixed Media on Wood / 20 x 20 each / Frameless
Kate Zimmer is an abstract painter whose studio is in the historic Industrial Center Building (ICB) on the Sausalito waterfront. Inspired by her inner emotional landscape, and the outer exploration of nature’s solitude and perfection, Kate’s art does a dance between the two. “My art seeks to inspire feelings in the viewer, rather than engaging them in analytical thinking - and at the same time is hopefully interesting and beautiful.”

I am a gestural abstract artist, taking my cue from nature. My work is at once personal and universal, like looking out a window and seeing life through my own point of view, but knowing others will have their own unique response. I am particularly influenced by the colors and energy of nature and the ever-changing environment. Line, color, shape, and movement all invoke feelings, daydreams, longings and collective memories.

Kay is a plein air colorist in the impressionist tradition. She paints the San Francisco Bay Area, Northern California, Napa and Sonoma vineyards, as well as scenes of Northern Tuscany. Her intent is to see beyond the physical qualities within a landscape. She chooses locations that have a certain wildness, where the essence and story are more than contours and lines. Her passion is to see and capture with how color is changed by the influence of light.

I am inspired when, with paint, I make discoveries of my inner world from the inside out. Rather than paint what I see and understand, I paint without knowing and hope I will discover something. I strive for a finished painting that expresses something that can’t be verbalized, only visualized and experienced. My hope is that the audience will find their own unique interpretation.

I work in layers, combining different media to create fantastical cityscapes, dreamscapes and abstracts. My current paintings are created with layers of acrylic paint, glue resist, more paint layers, then I accentuate lines with sharpies and occasionally use stencils and spray paint. In the last few years, this has led me from tangles of neurons, to geographical vistas, to amorphous creatures floating in space.

My second act as an artist is proof of life beyond high-tech. A self-taught artist, I grew up in a family who believed in the do-it-yourself model. My first career was in electrical engineering. I spent a significant amount of time learning and following specific rules to design electronic systems.

Siegel is an acrylic painter of abstract art incorporating her translation of memory and experience. Siegel’s work is in collections throughout the U.S. and internationally.

Fractal properties are found in many natural phenomena: ocean waves, snowflakes, crystals, algae and river networks, among others. These qualities of ordered chaos interest artist Sheryl Daane Chesnut. She employs an organic and experimental process using polymers and metals with oil and acrylic paint. Utilizing an array of natural elements: salts, minerals and powdered earth pigments, she strives to capture the essence of our natural environment.

As a child growing up in the East Bay Area, I witnessed the repeated transformation of wild open spaces around me into parking lots and housing developments. My calling is to document these places before they are lost to consumption; to take note of their value and give voice to their presence. In so doing, I hope to advocate for the protection of open space and to grow our collective connection to the land.
I have maintained a studio in Northern CA since 1998. Soon after renting my first studio, my style began to take shape. Maybe all I needed was a place to experiment without worrying about the mess. Whatever the reason, it was so rewarding to see my work take on a unique look and for it to be well received by both collectors and my peers. It is important to me to continue to experiment in my artistic practice. This evolution is what motivates me to continue.

Tom Chapman

I am a former jockey-turned artist, but instead of riding horses, now I paint them. I also paint just about everything else from dogs, cats, wildlife, to birds and chickens. Because of my background in horse racing and my knowledge of horse anatomy, my paintings are accurately depicted. My medium is oil on canvas of all different sizes. I’ve taken a few private lessons to learn about color mixing and values, but for all practical purposes I’m self-taught.

Cabarete / Mixed Media, Acrylic, Collage on Canvas / 30 x 24 / Frameless

An initial transfer of energy with marks, washes and brushstrokes leads to editing, adding, obscuring and revealing. I deliberately keep the painting open for as long as possible, dwelling in uncertainty to push the edge of my understanding. The result produces paintings with richly layered surfaces and a history that exudes breath, depth and life.

Art for me is an exploration of the intricate interplay between the world and human mind in its most beautiful form. The still life compositions and landscapes I paint are reflections of this enigmatic entanglement of mind and reality. They fuse together the real world, my vision of the world and my emotions brought to life by beautiful flowers or by gorgeous sunsets.

As a mixed media artist, I express my work in a variety of ways, rather than focusing on only one path of expression. After years of contemplating what makes this the case, I have come to the conclusion that I am in love with process. I began my art career as a painter, and while I still enjoy creating with paint, I am increasingly drawn to new processes and experimentation. My work for the past ten years has related to the subject of tree imagery.

These paintings explore my interests working with the natural forces of nature, its rhythms and movements. I have reconstructed remembered experiences through spontaneous gestures. The limited palette refers to the symbolic nature of the subject, the lights, densities in water as it courses around us. This work is strongly rooted in line, marks, movement and notations as a means to express dispersion, shattered structures and systems.

Albert Smith

Untitled, 1999 / Oil on Canvas / 38 x 14 / Framed

Albert Smith’s work has been shown in San Francisco, Chicago, Los Angeles, and New York City, as well as London and Tokyo. A retrospective covering four decades was held in 2005 at the Triton Museum where his work is in their permanent collection. He is represented in the Legion of Honor, Achenbach Collection in SF, and the Stanford University Museum of Art. You can view 38 of Albert’s best paintings throughout the Stanford Hospital.
My work is united by my obsession with the most basic elements of photography: light and time. My projects range from self-portraits to abstract landscapes. I work with many photographic processes, ranging from the earliest type of camera to the latest digital technology. I look for relationships between darkness and light, stillness and movement. My subjects usually demonstrate changes that take place slowly over time, whether in nature or the human body.

I am interested in using type as a form for exploring pattern, color and movement. While a simple repeat continues to be one of my favorites, I’m drawn to the myriad of ways shapes and colors can be sequenced or layered. Collage has become a natural extension of my printing because I like to reuse and reimagine the prints and materials that didn’t work the first time. My collage series is about a collection of memories recalled in tactile layered moments.

My paintings often reflect the light and colors from my native country, Sweden. The range varies from the spare light of winter when colors are very subtle to the intense, long daylight of summer when colors are saturated. Color and lines are very important in the expression of my art that’s frequently minimalistic, which is another Scandinavian influence. The subject matters repeatedly show nature and my love for the natural world.

My works of art painted before 2004 were explorations of life changes. Frequent travels were the source of inspiration for my collages. Now my paintings are primarily abstractions of nature and vibrant mixed media expressions. The classical music I play while painting inspires the color, pattern and movement; the “Joie De Vivre” of my work.

Fog City / Oil on Canvas / 30 x 40 / Frameless

Capturing moods of cityscapes and landscapes as they are transformed by fog, rain, light and darkness is my continuing passion. Reinventing and finding beauty in our day-to-day pedestrian world. Watching the drama unfold in atmospheric changes as day recedes into the abstractions of night. Reveling in the play of reflections dancing on a rain swept pavement and contemplating the mysterious in the spaces between the objects we see. This is my inspiration.

My prints are primarily about shape, texture, and color. The shapes I create imbue my prints with a quality that is both modern and retro. In other words, I consider my prints to be modern-retro, modern in the sense of the art of the last two centuries. This retro quality makes the monotypes somewhat nostalgic, yearning for a modern era that was about the future but is now about a reverence for the past.

Ellen is recognized for her tranquil and peaceful landscape paintings. Her paintings reflect the beauty that is found in nature. She is passionate about evoking mood or emotion in her paintings. True enjoyment comes from capturing the light as it spreads across a scene. Some of her favorite subjects are marshes, areas along the Pacific Coast, vineyards and incredible skies at sunset and before or after storms.
Inspired by the portraiture tradition, but working within the still life genre, I use objects to explore the human experience. I call this body of work “portraits in absentia.” To me, a cherished, personal object — a shirt, a pair of shoes, a garden flower, or a golf ball — retains the essence of the person who chose them. I view the things with which we surround ourselves as both containing and revealing the shape of our lives.

My work relies heavily on color, nuance & movement, which reflects not only the perceived chaos in the world and everyday life, but specifically the themes of turmoil, divisiveness & most importantly reunification of the couples in conflict I have encountered through my 30+ years as a divorce lawyer. Creating beauty, thoughtfulness & provocation through art holds the same challenge for me. I have enjoyed this topsy-turvy journey and hope you will join me in it.

My uplifting and colorful art is about living in the moment, being present and appreciating ordinary things in life. My style is contemporary, a bridge between abstract and impressionism. I have exhibited and sold my art at Galleries, shows and online. I also accept commissions and teach art classes.
Bacchi is a San Francisco-based Gallerist and Curator. He received his BA in Media Studies from Antioch University (Center for British Studies). Since then, he has co-founded galleries in New York and San Francisco, and guest juried and curated several new art and photography exhibitions on both coasts. #inthesky is an inspired series of mobile photographs. Shot spontaneously, they portray the volatile relationship between the sky and urban landscape.

San Francisco ceramic sculptor Jane Grimm’s current work consists of architecturally inspired linear forms. The sculptures are minimalist and monochromatic. She emphasizes forms by the reductive use of color. All low fire clay sculptures are hand built using slabs and coils finished with underglazes and glazes.

Art is therapy. Jane is always looking at the periphery of the real and searching for brilliance in the ordinary. She mixes genres or styles, and is greatly influenced by her favorite artists; Matisse, Van Gogh, Picasso, Hopper and Diebenkorn. She feels that life is not just flowers, landscapes or people but the totality of sense and experience. Light and the natural environment are common threads in her work, with much humor and color.
Jane’s Grandmother, Mabel Carruthers, was in the Southern California Impressionist Group with Marian and Elmer Wachtel. Jane moved to Palo Alto from Venice, Italy and was thrilled to study with Brigitte Curt and Jim Smyth who combine the expressive Plein Air tradition with the knowledge and keen observation of the Masters. After a career as a book designer at McGraw-Hill, Jane is now a SPECTRA Art teacher at El Carmelo Elementary School in Palo Alto.

Born in London, Jennifer has painted since childhood with her mother and grandmother, both professional artists. She quite often spent days with them in the studio. She is most at home around art supplies, books, museums and galleries. She is drawn to the mountains, sky and water of Napa Valley, where she lives and her paintings draw attention to the land and the people who make our food and wine possible; to show their hard work, passion and stories.

I take everyday objects that are often overlooked or un-remarked upon and render them as though they are precious icons. At times presenting the viewer with the suggestion that they are more important than we would initially give credit for. My chosen objects are taken out of their daily context and isolated on a stark background with dramatic lighting that permits the item to be viewed with a fresh appreciation and occasionally a touch of humor.

Being present and drawing or painting what I see and feel in front of me is everything! I have a life-long love story with the natural world. I pursue my passion for our environment and human interaction with nature through my art. I paint from life. My goal is to create paintings that celebrate the beauty in our natural environment and to attempt to evoke introspection in the viewer.

Goodman is a native Californian who lives and works in San Francisco. He earned a degree in Theatre Arts from UC Davis and was a professional playwright before turning to painting full-time. As a self-taught artist, his work has been deeply influenced by the Bay Area Figurative Movement which grew out of the work of David Park, Richard Diebenkorn, Nathan Oliveira and others. Nathan Oliveira was a personal mentor to Goodman.

Jim became a full-time painter in 1975. I always loved Northern CA and wanted to get away from everything I knew and start fresh. I eventually moved to Humboldt, where my education as a painter really started. Working closely with artists beyond my own level, like Curtis Otto, James Moore and George Van Hook, was an amazing way to learn. I paint small and large on location and sometimes re-work a painting when I feel it’s not quite complete, even years later.

John Kunzweiler is a Marin County, CA painter and photographer. John’s work is focused on nature, color and shape. His colors are bold; the shapes distorted yet familiar. John’s intent is to capture and stretch your imagination and to remind you that indeed, every picture tells a story.
John Watson Studio is dedicated to the merits of a simple and refined aesthetic. Work includes photo-based contemporary prints, photography, botanical images, textile and surface design and graphic design.

Jon Wessel is a San Francisco based visual artist interested in gesture and marks, urban iconography, and ephemera. In addition to his studio work, Wessel is also interested in the use of technology (iPhone) as a viable artistic tool. To this end, since 2012, he has taken daily photographs of found marks in his everyday environment and created artwork which he shares on social media sites.

Joseph Kertesz was born in 1932 and passed in 2013. He was a realist painter in his early years and gradually evolved into an impressionist, specializing in California landscape as well as scenes from his native Hungary. He was the proud owner of Kertesz Fine Art Gallery in San Francisco, which thrived for nearly 40 years in the heart of downtown on Sutter Street. Joseph’s paintings are in many private collections throughout the world.
I look beyond the visual beauty of flowers to the stories they tell about us. It is like looking at an old photograph: flowers bring back memories. In my work, I see myself as having two obligations: one, to myself, to share with people the moments I experience in nature that are breathtaking, and inspire them to go out and experience nature themselves - and second, to nature, to motivate people to protect the land and creatures that share our planet.

June's inspiration comes from loving the outdoors, people, animals and the experiences of life. The work and influence of other artists are also sources of inspiration for June. Her style ranges from impressionistic to abstract, by experimenting with varied palettes, brushes, mediums and surfaces. Although June loves employing bold colors, she finds it pleasing to capture a sense of quiet calm by designing her work with a softer and less vibrant palette.

Brookman is best known for her encaustic paintings, where through hot wax and pigment she captures the myriad faces and moods of the sea in a way that makes time stand still. To create her paintings, she focuses on layering, transparency and repetition of movement to allow the paintings to form intuitively and of their own volition. Her work has a thick, semi-translucent glass-like surface, with layer upon layer of encaustic wax mirroring the ocean surface itself.

My paintings evolve from intuition and chance. My art allows the viewer to experience color, texture, movement and surprise. Each painting holds a metaphor of my quest for personal understanding and growth. My style is abstract with an occasional recognizable form layered within. I use acrylic, collage and cold wax on wood panels. Most of my paintings have many layers and this allows me to stand back to reveal discoveries that show me where to go next.

California Colors / Acrylic on Cradle Board / 24 x 18 / Framed

Kathleen Mitchell is a Bay Area native with a Masters degree in painting. In her current acrylic paintings, she brings a love of color and local landscape to her pieces. Animated brushwork and lively colors enhance the vibrant look of her work.
The ability to capture the constantly changing light and shadows in nature drew me to photography as an art student. When the computer came along with ease of processing light and color, I changed my presentation. When I saw three-dimensional photographs for the first time I was thrilled to see moments in time depicted in three dimensions. This added quality intrigues people so much that they want to touch the print to see if it’s really three-dimensional.

My work is very much driven by the process of painting, printing and collage. It reflects my interest in memory, impermanence and the relationship between opposites such as order versus chaos, structure versus gesture and line versus form. I try to develop levels of meaning by building and/or removing layers of paint, ink, paper and other materials. Each piece has its own history, which is partially revealed through various layers.

Occurred Along The Way / Oil & Sand on Canvas / 12 x 12 / Frameless

I started painting abstract oils in 1997, at first using only household and construction tools and later adding palette knives and brushes to the process. While I am drawn to creating large-scale paintings, I also love to work with a range of sizes. Through intuition and movement, I investigate the interplay of color, shape, and texture, and am influenced by a range of abstract expressionist, color field, and arte povera painters.

Saytes is a self-taught artist. She originally created mixed media collages and expressionistic pastel florals which are bold in color and design, incorporating pastel and paint in the tradition of Mary Cassatt. Her most recent paintings are seascapes, created by a combination of oils and acrylic washes. The washes give paintings an ethereal effect that the artist likes to achieve in her work. Her seascapes are inspired by the beauty of Northern CA and Cape Cod.

My work has always been influenced by summers at my grandparent’s farms in Michigan. But, it is the cow shape that seems to hold most of my attention. My art is a gift I honor every day. I find inspiration in the paintings of Diebenkorn, Bonnard, Gregory Kondos and Lucian Freud and so many others.

Burst of Color / Oil on Canvas / 20 x 15 / Frameless

Lorinda Reichert has been involved in art, design, and the creative experience throughout her life. Her work encompasses Still Life and Plein Air. “I am always open to innovative ways to push the creative process forward. I love the discipline of design and composition coupled with the excitement of unexpected possibilities of technique and expression. I strive to create images that are full of color, texture, mood, and depth.”
Imparting Calmness: I love to use color and form to create my landscape and object paintings. I want to make the objects and scenes have a life that brings the viewer into the painting. With acrylics and oils, I paint scenes of boats, beach huts, barns and landscapes. Each painting is an experiment for me to see how I can impart a sense of nostalgia and calm. I want to create timeless paintings for viewers to enjoy for a lifetime.

Marcia O’Kane  okane.marcia@att.net

One of my goals for life after retirement was to take watercolor classes. I finally made the leap while recovering from Stage 4 cancer. I enrolled in classes at Adobe Art Center in Castro Valley and never looked back. Watercolor has become one of the real passions in my life. I love color and nature and look at the process of painting as a continuing adventure in living and growing.
Marilyn Hulbert has been working as a Professional Photographer in both the Freelance and Corporate field for the past 30 years. She is an award winning photographer who has exhibited nationally & internationally. Her undergraduate degree was from The California College of Arts and Crafts and went on to obtain her Masters from UC Berkeley. Forming her own company she also volunteers her time helping non-profit organizations.

A Tree Grows / Photographic Print / 14 x 11 / Framed

My images in Watercolor explore the “every day” of my life. By observing the shadow play, patterns and vibrant colors nature displays all around me I am seduced. And imagine my excitement when I discover those often hidden abstractions within! I’m pushed: to capture, express and share. Art is my voice.

Martine Jardel

Site 81 / Oil on Canvas / 20 x 20 / Frameless

Jardel’s paintings show a process of sedimentation, thin layers of paint combined with a cold wax process lets the light seep out from within the painting. The effect of color transparencies, light and dark, help create a mood or an atmospheric quality which enhances the reading of marks, lines and colors as loose depictions of elements in nature. Recurrent shapes, a tree or a body? Sky or water? Ultimately they are but traces, remnants of images with no fixed identity.

A Tree in the Dunes / Pastel / 12 x 9 / Framed

I am intrigued and inspired by the effects of light in the natural landscape and I strive to capture the phenomenon in my paintings done on location and in my studio. My pastel landscapes, in particular, have been described as having a peaceful or “dreamy” quality that permit the viewer to be transported, or escape, into the scene.
Maryellie Johnson

I was a little girl who loved to draw. I am a self-taught artist, except for participation in Bob Waterman’s “Garage Band” group workshop in Hillsborough. I love to paint, especially flowers and people. I live for light and color, so watercolor is my natural medium for delicate variations of color and transparency.

Melinda Cootsona

Cootsona is a Northern CA native who earned a BFA from California College of the Arts, Oakland. She has been inspired by the Society of Six and the Bay Area Figurative Artists especially Richard Diebenkorn. She is currently focusing on abstract and figurative work, often combining elements of both. The unifying element is a strong sense of color and composition. Pulling from a “California palette” her work is vibrant and saturated with a keen sense of light.

Maura Ibanez

My family lives on a small ranch in the Texas Hill Country, which provides endless photographic opportunities. The natural surroundings and slower pace of life out here inspire me and I want to share it with others. Interactions between animals and humans are priceless. Whether it be a common interaction or seizing a special moment, I enjoy capturing pieces of time that are raw, emotional, real, funny, or even random.

Painting abstract landscapes and cityscapes allows me to observe light, colors and shapes as I think about how I would represent a scene from my everyday life and travels. I love to take photographs of these scenes and then later convert them to sketches where I reduce the details in the scene down to the most essential elements to tell the story of what I saw. I look for shapes, planes, color and values that tell the story in a simplified manner.

I consider myself a Contemporary Urban Abstract Painter. As a prolific and intuitive painter, I’m captivated with texture, line, color, design and shape that are the aesthetics of the urban environment. When I’m out exploring and find old decayed building facades, pipes, a freeway intersection or a decrepit fence, this inspires me. My mind is like a camera and always taking pictures of what I see, feel and interpret in the environment around me.

Burlingame Art Society

Patricia (Pat) MacKenzie Barr has always had a passion for self-expression through art. The foundation of her creativity was established early through her local education. She has a Graphic Arts degree from San Jose State University. Over the years, Pat has shown her work; watercolor, pastels, and oils at a variety of venues. Pat has donated to Dart for Art all 9 years.

In my work I like to explore the nature of the photographic image, the different ways it can take shape. Photographs not singularly recorded by the camera. Some have been reconstructed from dozens to several hundred smaller puzzle pieces, each shot separately. Others were created by overlaying dozens of images to create a new visual representation.

I was born in India, and grew up in Zambia, Africa. A self-taught artist holding a degree in Physics and Engineering. What excites me most about painting is color, movement and meaning. I achieve balance and harmony through composition and gestural lines against organic forms. I am often drawn to the circle because of its metaphoric meaning, a symbol of life and continuity. The overlapping of multi-generational histories and cultures are expressed in my many layers of paint. My traditional art background serves me well when planning the shapes and lines of my composition.

Robin’s recent paintings of the Amazon River were created from sketches done from the cockpit of a Cessna. In an effort to push the perspective of his landscapes, these latest works often have a high horizon. The paintings emphasize the scale of the basin and the serpentine nature of the river and her tributaries. Taking advantage of the seasonal high waters, his work also explores the jungle canopy emphasizing the viewpoint from the river surface.

I’m enamored with color, texture, atmosphere, depth and the interplay of light. Eyes wide open, I take what I see and explore it in an ever-changing process of visual notation. It’s absolutely my way of staying completely present in the world. I work in acrylic and graphite, using many layers of glazes to achieve the luminosity of the atmospheric quality in my work.
As a sculptor, Waters often turns to universal issues of human identity, relationships and interactions. She carves hardwoods and sometimes marble with mallet and chisels, then finishes by hand sanding. Waters is the founder and chair of the Peninsula Museum of Art; founder of the 1870 Art Center in Belmont; founder of the Peninsula Chapter of the Women’s Caucus for Art; and co-founder of the Peninsula Sculptors’ Guild.

Sharon Paster is a Bay Area artist located at the ICB in Sausalito, CA. She uses oil pigment sticks to create abstract images and landscapes that explore the potential for movement and change—building the interplay of colors, shapes and paint density to convey energy and depth. She has shown work nationally and is represented by SBFine Arts in the Bay Area, Jules Place in Boston, Christopher Martin Gallery in Dallas and MAC Fine Art in Palm Beach.

I am a 13 year old self-taught artist. My favorite quote is from Brene Brown: “Creativity is the way I share my soul with the world.”
Steve Kaufman was a great American pop artist and former assistant to Andy Warhol. In his day-to-day life, he embodied and delivered the true American pop art experience. He painted iconic people, historical figures and products significant in our daily lives. He was an artistic journalist, commenting on both history and current events with his art. He advanced the silkscreening process and was most recognized for his use of vivid colors and hand embellishment.

I have always been passionate about painting, feeding my lifelong fascination with the interplay of light, color and texture. The majority of my work is done outside, where the intensities and subtleties of light, color, and mood are most on display. I usually complete each piece in one sitting committing to the expression of my experience at the time. For me it is the only way to capture the sense and feeling of time and place.

Color, tone and hue predominate these works that exploit the inherent movement of oil paint. My process begins with color, building up layers opacity and translucence to explore the subtleties and range of tone. The complexities and richness supersede the constrained palette. These layered, atmospheric spaces flow through tonal shifts until they intersect. These juxtapositions further enhance the color dynamics and create ambiguous places.

“If you’re not amazed, you’re not paying attention.” - Rick Hanson

Ph.D. I’m in a constant state of amazement at the world around me: Nature’s beauty, color, wind, water, and movement, all inspire me to create. I work intuitively, focusing on the joyful, passionate and celebratory aspects of color. Using my breath and large motions, I focus on letting go, being present, and infusing the work with spontaneity. Creating is my meditation, and constant healing.

My path is to follow the creating flow. Flow is something that wants to be followed, not directed. It occurs when one does not need to think about how to do something, it just happens, yet this flow can sometimes be quite gallingly elusive. In reply, I say, “Just let the hand and brush decide the color and the stroke, the density and the intensity.” Miracles happen when thinking is turned off and deeper states are encouraged to fly with gossamer wings.

Froelich is a contemporary abstract painter and photographer. Photography has been a passion since her youth, but the evolution of digital photography created a void in regards to the precision and tactility of film, so she began painting. The inspiration for her work is found in details discovered during exploration and travel: nature, beach, water, architecture, rust, topography. The balance and composition she sees through the lens easily translates to her paintings.

Soltesz is a California Plein-Air painter whose fresh colors and spontaneous brushstrokes capture the spirit of the Golden State in her glory. He spends most of his time painting outdoors, observing the changing light and capturing it in oil for his collectors. His work is collected by The San Jose Sharks, Maria Shriver, Arnold Palmer, and the Borel Bank. He is listed in the Library of Congress as a “Living Legend of California”.
My work is influenced by French Impressionism and early CA artists. My style is described as bright, chromatic palette with “loose” painterly brush work. I started art school at age 10 in Russia and and continued my art education into adult when I moved to the US. I actively participate in regional and national shows and my paintings have won numerous awards. I am a Signature Member of American Impressionist Society and Artist Member of California Art Club.

I record moments that have made an impact on my life while traveling abroad or just standing still. I like to enhance my impressions of reality using transparent watercolor techniques that lends itself to layering colors. As in life there are many layers to what we see and what we think we see.
